ATELIER LIEVERSE

Utrecht, The Netherlands

Characteristic for Lieverse's work is the large size, monochrome colors, the raw linen and coarse embossment. The work is about identity in a globalizing world. The paintings show people, mostly women, without a clear background, isolated from their context. The subject is looking for something or someone outside the canvas. The emotion is evident; something has happened or is about to happen, like a movie-still. Lieverse wants to create a connection between the viewer and the unknown, emphatic, already at first meeting.

Limited editions

Over the past few years, Lieverse has developed a technique to guarantee authenticity and uniqueness of each edition. Goals were to recreate a series of artworks that approaches the original artwork in 'feeling'. "It had to be much more than just a reproduction, it had to be unique..". In the beginning it is a photo of the original artwork on linen. But then.. handwork is being done, intensively. Different layers of paint and materials are used to create transparency, color-depth and tactile embossment. The contrast of raw linen, the speed of the palette-knife and the small decisive brushstrokes for highlights are characteristic.

All these special editions emerge from the Lieverse studio. On the front the artwork is signed by Lieverse, while on the backside a studio stamp is applied with the unique number and size.
